

Can the coolest solution keep your business hotter than ever?

Yes, it can.

Environmental technology for keeping the heat while reducing total costs.

We all need to make our business more competitive and deliver results. That's a fact. And that's why you should talk to us about your opportunities.

We develop solutions focusing on flameless oxyfuel combustion and High Level Lancing (HLL) technologies in various process steps, as well as liquefied natural gas (LNG). With our solutions you can increase production capacity and flexibility flexibility in all heating and melting operations, eg EAF, ladles/convertes, reheating furnaces and annealing lines, all while decreasing fuel consumption and reducing emissions of CO₂ and NO_x.

Let's discuss your challenges, and we'll make your business hotter than ever.
